West to East – Guy's epic 4,900km journey to end on Sunday at Scarborough

A Moreton Bay man's epic 4,900km run across Australia will end on Sunday when he runs into Scarborough after 78 days on the road.

Guy Schweitzer has average more than 62km a day since leaving Port Headland (Western Australia) on 28 May.

The 48-year-old has run across Western Australia, the Northern Territory and Queensland, including the dirt tracks of the Gibson and Simpson Deserts and through the iconic outback towns of Marble Bar, Birdsville, Betoota and Innamincka.

Guy has spent the majority of his 'bucket-list' adventure alone, with his support team leaning-in for only three of the 11-week running odyssey. He has also carried the majority of his food and water throughout the herculean run.
